

5.00 credits

30.0 h

Q1

Teacher(s)	Zitouni Benedikte ;
Language :	French
Place of the course	Bruxelles Saint-Louis
Learning outcomes	At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : The course is an in-depth introduction to sociology. Rather than surveying the field, it explores some of the field's classics and key-authors. In so doing, it aims at raising the students' awareness about the stakes at play in each sociological undertaking. These stakes are theoretical, practical, but also political and even existential. Debates and divergences amongst sociologists will thus be emphasized. More generally, the course aims at giving students the necessary reference points and overall understanding of sociology for their future orientation in the social and human sciences.
Evaluation methods	Closed-book exam.
Teaching methods

