Learning outcomes

Anthropology is the science which takes an interest in everything related to man, ranging from the evolution of the human species to the most astonishing achievements and phenomena of human communities.

At the end of this study programme, students will have acquired :

- research methods and techniques (field research, description, interpretation) putting social and cultural anthropology into practice , primarily by means of a placement in the field (3 to 6 month placement or 1 day per week of professional work placement) and the production of a monograph (dissertation) which takes account of recent developments in information technology, both in gathering and analysing data.
- fundamental principles and concepts in the field of basic anthropology, culture and social life, taking account of recent developments in Western societies
- a greater desire to improve their knowledge of anthropology and general culture, in a context which highlights the different yet complementary nature of other disciplines (interdisciplinary roots of anthropology)

Programme structure

In addition to broadening knowledge of the areas that go to make up anthropology, a well structured piece of research is a key part of the 120 credit Master in Anthropology. It is possible to do a placement in the field to pursue basic research. This reflects the process of aligning anthropology and sociology, begun in the University in 1997, where there is a course on Socio-anthropology and also a professional focus, organized with the Sociology Department on the Socio-anthropology of Interculturality and Development.

The Master in Anthropology is centred on a research project selected by the student with the help of a tutor. This entails understanding how to do the so-called 'participant observation'(choice of location, outside placement, investigation, description, interpretation then production of a monograph - dissertation).

The 120 credit Master in Anthropology offers core subjects, optional 'area' subjects and three different focuses.

- the core subjects (75 credits) include courses on research techniques (29 credits) "theoretical cross-disciplinary issues" (20 credits),

TEACHING FOCUS [30.0]

IMPORTANT NOTE: In accordance with article 138 para. 4 of the decree of 7 November 2013 concerning higher education and the academic organisation of studies, teaching practice placements will not be assessed in the September session. Students are required to make every effort to successfully complete the teaching practice in the June session, subject to having to retake the year.

Cette finalité développe des compétences d'enseignants ou de formateurs dans le domaine des sciences sociales. Elle conduit l'étudiant au professorat dans l'enseignement secondaire ou supérieur non universitaire.

Course prerequisites

There are no prerequisites between course units (CUs) for this programme, i.e. the programme activity (course unit, CU) whose learning outcomes are to be certified and the corresponding credits awarded by the jury before registration in another CU.

The programme's courses and learning outcomes

For each UCLouvain training programme, a reference framework of learning outcomes specifies the the skills expected of every graduate on completion of the programme. Course unit descriptions specify targeted learning outcomes, as well as the unit's contribution to reference framework of learning outcomes.

Access based on validation of professional experience

Specific professional rules

Successful completion of the master's course with teaching focus leads to the award of the master's degree with teaching focus and the title of secondary school education specialist.

The Réforme des Titres et Fonctions ("Titles and Functions Reform"), in force since 1 September 2016, is intended to harmonise the titles, functions and pay scales of basic and secondary education professionals in French Community of Belgium networks.

It also aims to guarantee the priority of preferred titles over minimum titles and to establish a regime for titles in short supply.

AESS holders can learn which functions they can carry out and the pay scales from which they can benefit by clicking here.

The university cannot be held responsible for any problems that students may encounter at a later date with a view to a teaching appointment in the French Community of Belgium.

Teaching method

The Master in Anthropology is centred on a research project chosen by each student with the aid of a tutor. The objective is to train students in the technique of 'participant observation'. With this in mind, the Master programme is a progressive and coherent one lasting four semesters spread over two years : sessions on interdisciplinary methods and issues and preparation for the examining board (first semester) ; area studies or Erasmus exchange (second and third semesters); area studies and production of a monograph (fourth semester).

The research and teaching in the Anthropology and Sociology Unit (l'Unité d'Anthropologie et de sociologie - ANSO) make the most of the links with sociology and the Institute of Development Studies. Moreover, there are exchanges and agreements with many parts of UCL; the outstanding list of area studies (specific areas) allows students to study an area of their choice.

The quality of the training is guaranteed by the close link with the members of the Laboratory for Prospective Anthropology (Laboratoire en anthropologie prospective - LAAP) where about fifteen researchers are part of a dynamic team who are actively involved in many aspects of the Master programme (e.g. seminars, specific courses, tutoring). The lecturers and researchers work on many areas throughout the world and collaborate with various anthropology laboratories (www.uclouvain.be/laap).

The lectures organized by the Jacques Leclercq Chair are a key component of the Master in Anthropology at UCL and bring an outstanding international dimension to the programme. Twice a year, internationally renowned anthropologists give a series of guest lectures (2 x 15 hours). Assessment of these courses is done by a board of examiners.

Assessment of the 'cross-disciplinary issues' section, with the exception of the sociology course, is done by defending a piece of research work which brings together different disciplines before a board of academics.

The Socio-anthropology of Interculturality and Development focus provides students with an original course in a more applied area of anthropology. The Laboratory for Prospective Anthropology (Laboratoire en anthropologie prospective – LAAP) is one of the leading pioneers in this field.

The methodology courses with the initials ANTR are grouped together by subject to help organize the outside placement which, ideally, should take place during the second semester of the first year or the first semester of the second year.

Students receive support during the first year from a tutoring system involving the lecturers and assistants.

Students are able to use new technology for surveys and data management ; special documentation on anthropology is available in the multi-media section of the ESPO library.

Placements in Belgium or abroad (production of a monograph/dissertation) ; oral defence of the monograph/dissertation in the form of a lecture to a board of examiners and an audience of students; publication of the best monographs in a collection of the laboratory.

Programme organized around Erasmus exchange and outside placement; help in seeking grants.

Evaluation

The evaluation methods comply with the regulations concerning studies and exams. More detailed explanation of the modalities specific to each learning unit are available on their description sheets under the heading "Learning outcomes evaluation method".

Assessment of all the core subjects and the cross-disciplinary issues takes the form of an examination before a board of examiners. For the research focus, the following courses will be added : ANTR2100 Foundations of Anthropology (5 credits) and ANTR2110 History and Anthropological Theories (5 credits). This examination is based on a theoretical piece of work which brings together different subjects and which is supervised by a tutor.

Mobility and/or Internationalisation outlook

The programme contains many opportunities of an international nature, the most notable of which are the Jacques Leclercq Chair lectures. Each year UCL students can attend lectures, either in French or English, given by researchers of international standing.

In addition, the compulsory 3 to 6 month ethnography study, within the usual programme, enables students to study abroad if they wish. However, this study can also be done in Belgium in tandem with other activities in the programme. As far as students who also work are concerned, it may be organized in connection with their job (in Belgium or abroad). Agreements with many different European and North American universities also encourage students to be mobile. (The list of agreements is available from the POLS Department).

The conclusion of agreements with the Council of Universities (Conseil Interuniversitaire de la Communauté française – CIUF and Coopération Universitaire au Développement CUD) to welcome students from the Southern hemisphere to study at UCL will further enrich the programme.

Finally, an international Master is under discussion which would place the UCL Master in a network of excellence in anthropology in collaboration with the universities of Aix en Provence, ULB (Brussels), Mainz, EHESS (Marseille), Roskilde, Uppsala and Geneva (IED). Students would study a minimum of 30 credits at UCL.

Possible trainings at the end of the programme

Doctoral programme : doctorate in Anthropology

Certificates

Students who have another Master and mature students may enrol for the certificates successively and in a logical order in order to gain the relevant credits. At the end of this process they may enrol for the academic Master.
