MOOCS AND MICROMASTER ON EDX PLATFORM

UCLouvain joined the edX consortium and offers Massive Open Online Courses. Several professors of the Faculty of Law and Criminology have developed MOOC content related to International Law. A new online MicroMaster in International Law has been launched on the www.edx.org platform.

This unique programme offers four graduate level MOOCs:

International Law
International Human Rights Law
International Humanitarian Law
International Investment Law
Asylum and Refugee Law

Students enrolling for the Verified Certificate track will receive 5 credits for each course upon successful completion. The MicroMaster is awarded upon the completion of the five courses. Credits earned through the online MicroMaster programme (all courses or some of them in option) can be valued in the Advanced Master (LL.M.) in International Law (DRIN2MC) offered at Louvain-la-Neuve (partially on-campus). Alternatively, the Advanced Master can be followed in full on-campus.

DRIN2MC - Teaching profile

Learning outcomes

The Advanced Master in international law is designed to provide students who have completed their studies in law with a specialized high level training in international law, covering both international public law as well as international private law. In line with the tradition established for many years at Louvain, this specialized training in international law is also firmly anchored in European law.

Programme structure

The Advanced Master in international law is a programme lasting one academic year (60 credits) made up of three main groups of activities : seven compulsory courses (35 credits), two optional subjects chosen from a wide range of option courses (10 credits) and a final assignment done in the context of a special seminar on international law and lectures on current issues (15 credits). These sessions, as well as certain other compulsory courses and some optional subjects, are reserved for students taking the Advanced Master.

The programme's courses and learning outcomes

For each UCLouvain training programme, a reference framework of learning outcomes specifies the the skills expected of every graduate on completion of the programme. Course unit descriptions specify targeted learning outcomes, as well as the unit's contribution to reference framework of learning outcomes.

Teaching method

Most courses offered within the Advanced Master in International Law are based on interactive teaching methods. In some of them, students are called upon to read materials beforehand, which enables them to engage with the selected topics and discuss them during the courses.

As the number of students is limited, they have access to a personalized supervision by professors, particularly on the occasion of the preparation of their Master's essay. The latter's subject-matter is determined by each student, in cooperation with one of the professors of the programme.

Evaluation

The evaluation methods comply with the regulations concerning studies and exams. More detailed explanation of the modalities specific to each learning unit are available on their description sheets under the heading "Learning outcomes evaluation method".

The final assessment is continuously assessed ; there is also an assessment of the written overview and the dissertation. Apart from this, assessment is through written or oral examinations.

Mobility and/or Internationalisation outlook

The nature of the programme makes it attractive to foreign students; a large majority of students from foreign universities usually attend.

Possible trainings at the end of the programme

Le Master complémentaire en droit international s'inscrit dans la suite du Master en droit, il est accessible aux titulaires d'une formation en sciences juridiques ou d'une autre formation au contenu juridique marqué.
